Horror is a film genre that seeks to elicit fear or disgust in its audi ence for entertainment purposes.[2] Horror films often explore dark subject matter and may deal with transg ressive topics or themes. Broad elements include monsters, apocalyptic events, a nd religious or folk beliefs. Horror films have existed for more than a century. Early inspirations f rom before the development of film include folklore, religious beliefs and super stitions of different cultures, and the Gothic and horror literature of authors such as Edgar Allan Poe, Bram Stoker, and Mary Shelley. From origins in silent f ilms and German Expressionism, horror only became a codified genre after the rel ease of Dracula (1931). Many sub-genres emerged in subsequent decades, including body horror, comedy horror, slasher films, splatter films, supernatural horror and psychological horror. The genre has been produced worldwide, varying in cont ent and style between regions. Horror is particularly prominent in the cinema of Japan, Korea, Italy and Thailand, among other countries.
