Thriller is a genre of fiction with numerous, often overlapping, subgen res, including crime, horror, and detective fiction. Thrillers are characterized and defined by the moods they elicit, giving their audiences heightened feeling s of suspense, excitement, surprise, anticipation and anxiety.[1] This genre is well suited to film and television. A thriller generally keeps its audience on the &quot;edge of their seat s&quot; as the plot builds towards a climax. The cover-up of important informati on is a common element.[2] Literary devices such as red herrings, plot twists, u nreliable narrators, and cliffhangers are used extensively. A thriller is often a villain-driven plot, whereby they present obstacles that the protagonist or he ro must overcome.

Some examples of thrillers are the films of Alfred Hitchcock around the mid 20th century.[3] Some popular 21st-century mainstream examples include: The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo, Gone Girl, The Girl on the Train, The Woman in the Window, and the British television series Utopia.
